

CALL TROOPS IN "BATTLE OF RED RIVER" AT DAWN

Oklahoma Governor De- clares Martial Law At Toll Bridge

BULLETIN.

Denison, Tex., July 24—(UP)—Repeated reports of threats to end the Texas-Oklahoma bridge controversy by blowing up the toll bridge here today caused the Red River Bridge Company to place additional guards and floodlight on its structure.

Precautions will be taken to see that no one approaches the bridge except on business, company employees said.

Durant, Okla., July 24—(UP)—Thirty Oklahoma National Guardsmen today marched to the toll bridge over the Red River here and put into effect a proclamation of martial law issued by Gov. W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray.

The soldiers bore orders to use force if necessary to prevent persons from crossing a toll bridge across the stream between Durant and Denison, Tex.

Invocation of martial law for the first time in eight years in this state was resorted to by Governor Murray as a dramatic climax to a controversy that has raged for a week around the use of toll bridges and free spans linking Oklahoma and Texas.

Governor Murray, whose administration has been marked by many spectacular moves "in the interest of the common people," insisted that the two states, joint owners of the free bridges, throw them open to traffic immediately in defiance of a federal court injunction in Texas.

Gov. Ross Sterling of Texas, multi-millionaire oil man, expressed the same desire to have the bridges opened but said "it must be done in an orderly manner without violation of terms of the injunction."

When Governor Murray learned that owners of the toll span between Durant and Denison were planning to tie his hands by injunction, he ordered out the guard.

"Military Control"

He directed the guardsmen "to maintain military control against all interference whatsoever, except only an order otherwise by the superior executive power of the President of the United States."

Lieut. Col. John A. MacDonald, a state senator, was placed in command of the detachment of thirty Guardsmen mobilized from Company E of the 180th Infantry, a howitzer company, and the Ninth Brigade Headquarters unit.

The guardsmen marched to the bridgehead shortly after dawn. Guard was posted to remain 24 hours a day.

The only persons permitted to pass were those having official business and United States mail carriers.

For a week the approach to the toll bridge had been guarded by Oklahoma state highway workers. Murray regarded reported plans of the toll bridge owners to have these workers removed by injunction as an "affront to the sovereign power of the state of Oklahoma" and called on the National Guard for assistance.

At the south approach to the free span which parallels the toll bridge, four Texas Rangers were on guard preventing use of the span in compliance with the injunction obtained by the toll bridge owners in Federal court in Texas.

The Rangers were approximately one-half mile from the Oklahoma troopers.

Across the sluggish stream, they saw the 30 Guardsmen—all youths barely old enough to be enrolled in the state's military forces—approach and take up their position.

It was the first time many of the Guardsmen had been called for field duty. They carried their rifles with an air of pride.

The force was amply provided with officers. A Colonel, three Captains and a Lieutenant were on hand to give orders.

Charles E. Barrett, Adjutant General of the Oklahoma National Guard, arrived from Oklahoma City to keep Governor Murray constantly informed of the situation.

The officers were kept busy for a time posing for photographers and describing their plan of campaign in the "Battle of Red River."

The campaign, they said, is to consist of maintaining a state of siege at the north approach to the toll bridge.

Governor Murray, they pointed out, has no thought of sending his military forces beyond the jurisdiction of his own state.

Many of the boys went about their duties with the air of being on a picnic.

THREE TOLL BRIDGES

Three toll bridges were constructed across the Red River by private companies when funds of Oklahoma and Texas were insufficient for them to build the spans. They were built at Terral, Tex., Gainsville, Tex., and between Denison, Tex., and Durant, Okla.

Subsequently the two states built bridges across the Red River parallel to the toll bridges.

Owners of the Gainsville and Denison-Durant toll bridges obtained an injunction in federal court in Texas against use of the parallel free spans on grounds that must be paid by Texas for perpetual grants to operate the toll structures.

DIXON'S UTILITIES.

Since the question of public ownership of utilities is being agitated in Dixon it would be well to make an exhaustive and far-reaching investigation into the entire problem by a competent group of men equipped by experience to arrive at the correct answer.

If Dixon is receiving its water, gas and electric light and power at a reasonable rate, as compared to other cities of comparable size, and if the service from our public utilities is as good as in other cities, there is no reason that we can see for the city to assume the big burden of buying them and operating them.

If our rate for water or for electricity or gas should prove to be exorbitant, the city should take steps to have the rate reduced and if that proves to be impossible, it may be advisable for the city to own its public utilities.

The Telegraph has learned of one city, in another state, Chanute, Kansas, a city of about 9,000 population, which owns its public utilities and the profits therefrom are sufficient to pay all of the expenses of running the city. They have levied no city tax for a number of years. We do not know, however, what rates the citizens have to pay for their water, gas and electricity. If rates are high there would be no point in the city running the utilities, for the amount the citizen saves in taxes might be more than eaten up in the higher rates.

The Telegraph does not believe there can be any just criticism of the service given by the utilities in Dixon.

Our water is of the very finest quality and comes without interruption and the supply is more than ample for the city's needs. The Water Company, it must be said, spares no expense to insure a constant and ample supply of water. Also the gas and electric service cannot be complained of. The old days when lights went dim or completely out at frequent intervals and when power was uncertain have been gone for many years. We believe Dixon appreciates these advantages. The Illinois Northern Utilities Company maintains its headquarters in Dixon and has a large payroll and is a great benefit to this city, and Dixon should hesitate to do anything that might be an injustice to our utilities.

The utilities are entitled to charge a rate that will allow them to give good service and to make a fair return on the actual investment. But they should not be allowed to charge exorbitant rates. The products that the utilities supply are not luxuries, they are necessities of life. We cannot get along without them. They should be obtainable at a reasonable price so that every family, no matter how humble, can afford to have them.

There are a number of cities in Illinois that own at least part of their utilities. A fair investigating committee should be able to determine whether those public enterprises are successful and satisfactory from all viewpoints. Visits to some of these cities would disclose whether their rates were higher than ours, whether their service was as good as ours, whether politics was interfering with the operation of the utilities, etc.

If the rates that Dixon pays for the products of its public utilities are as low as they should be there can be no logical reason why the city should own the utilities, because it seems reasonable to suppose that our utilities, now operated by men long trained and experienced in their business, could never be operated by the city as efficiently as at present under private ownership. The only good excuse for city ownership would be a saving in rate.

It seems to the Telegraph that the whole question is whether the utility rates in Dixon are as low as they are in other cities where similar conditions exist. Natural resources, proximity to power sources, approximately to coal, the volume of water supply, the size of the market or the number of consumers, and probably a number of other conditions might enter into the question.

But the Dixon public is apparently interested in this question and the best thing for the public and for the utilities as well would be a fair, unbiased investigation into the whole proposition. It would settle the question completely and allow an intelligent decision.

The Telegraph will be glad to give any aid within its power to bring to light the actual facts.

FRENCH REFUSAL TO DISARM CLOUD ON GENEVA MEET

U. S. Officials Are Plainly Disappointed At the French Attitude

Washington, July 24—(AP)—The French memorandum to the League of Nations claiming France cannot disarm further under existing political conditions in Europe today cast a shadow over the elation President Hoover manifested over the success of his recent diplomatic moves to aid Germany.

With the seven power conference in London ended with a marked degree of success, American authorities turned their attention to the French document for the first time. Though comment was withheld, they did not disguise their disappointment at the tone of the memorandum.

The French attitude was interpreted as a definite set back to plans for the disarmament conference at Geneva next February, the success of which President Hoover hoped would result from economic rehabilitation of Europe.

In announcing his plan for a moratorium on intergovernmental debts in June, the Chief Executive expressed hope it would not only contribute to the economic recovery of Europe, but would so improve international good will that it would pave the way for a successful disarmament conference at Geneva.

France Big Question

Since the World War France has been the big question mark in all disarmament discussions. Officials here take the view that the outcome of the Geneva conference will depend on the attitude France assumes.

Although it has been known that France would like to have political guarantee before joining any movement to reduce arms, her outright announcement of this policy was not expected at this time.

France has not only refused to disarm under present conditions, but said she would not reduce her armaments without agreements from other nations to protect her in case of attack. She also demanded a guarantee of her political stability.

If France maintains that attitude, the most familiar with the situation acknowledge that she will deter material progress at Geneva. Neither Great Britain nor the United States is expected to accede to the French demand.

However, in government circles hope persists that the French memorandum was advanced for trading purposes, or to bolster that nation's government politically at home, and that the note did not express her final word on the matter.

Farmer And Wife
Murdered By Tenant

Evansville, Ill., July 24—(UP)—Hermann Schulline, 43, a farmer, and his wife Lillian, 40, were shot and killed today at the home of a tenant Henry Pannier, who gave himself up after shooting and according to Sheriff J. C. Knott, confessed to the crime.

The Schullines went to the Pannier home to make arrangements for renovating it. Pannier, 53, a bachelor, took exceptions to some of the plans. Sheriff Knott said, and went into the house after a shotgun.

Only two shots were fired. One penetrated Mrs. Schulline's heart, the other severed her husband's jugular vein. Both died instantly.

An hour after the shooting, Pannier appeared on the street here, told citizens what had occurred, and was turned over to the Sheriff, who brought him to the Chester county jail for safekeeping.

Rocky Mountain States Swelter

Kansas City, July 24—(AP)—The heat seared states of the Rocky Mountain sector were down for more century shattering temperatures today while forecasts promised temporary relief in the southwest.

Respite from the heat in Kansas and Oklahoma was seen by weather observers in an influx of cooler air from the north and scattered thundershowers, as temperatures dropped at Alva and Altus, two widely separated cities in Oklahoma.

Abnormal temperatures were general again yesterday in Wyoming, Montana, Utah, Idaho, New Mexico and Nevada.

Los Angeles experienced its hottest July day in 40 years with a maximum of 86 degrees while the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys sweltered under 100 degrees. The maximum at San Francisco was 63.

Three Put To Death In Electric Chairs

Ostling N. Y., July 24—(UP)—Andrew Metelski, 21, of Buffalo, and Herbert Johnson, 19, Chicago, were electrocuted at Sing Sing prison last night.

Metelski wore a red rose in his lapel. He had killed Edward Reid in a hold-up in Buffalo.

Johnson shot and killed Sheriff Henry Steadman of Schnoharle county while the latter had him in custody, but was recaptured by a posse.

Huntsville, Tex., July 24—(UP)—Joshua Riles, 31-year-old Negro, was electrocuted at 12:10 a. m. today at state prison for a criminal assault upon an expectant mother at Galveston last September. He was executed on his birthday.

Forty-four merchant ships are to be constructed for the Russian merchant fleet.

50,000 Acres Swept By Forest Fires

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 24—(AP)—Flames swept forward today in the Teton National Forest and north-eastern Wyoming, where they were menacing at least two large ranches, but they had been checked in Yellowstone National Park and the Dubois dude ranch country.

Losses mounted so rapidly forest officials could not give an accurate total, but estimated more than 50,000 acres had been burned over and the damage totaled several hundred thousand dollars.

A crew of about 1,000 composed of dud ranch guests, who volunteered ranch hands and forest rangers, checked two fires that threatened dude ranches in the Dubois area.

National Guard troops and volunteers had little hope of stopping flames near New Castle, in the Black Hills, without the aid of rain.

Telephone lines were damaged and communication was difficult. Increasing numbers of motorists, many of them from distant places, arrived to view the flames.

Buck Won't Accept U. S. Collectorship

Monmouth, Ill., July 24—(AP)—Clarence F. Buck, appointed by President Hoover to succeed Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge as Collector of Internal Revenue for the Chicago district, confirmed today the report that he would not accept the post.

The former State Senator, who was pre-convention manager for Frank O. Lowden during the 1928 presidential campaign and who was defeated for State Treasurer last November, said he preferred to accept the proffered chairmanship of the Board of Directors of a large finance corporation in New York.

Mr. Buck he did not seek the post of Revenue Collector and never had any intention of accepting it.

Slayer of Dry Agents Captured

George Adams, Fort Wayne, Ind., bootlegger, killed two federal dry agents when he shot his way to freedom after being trapped by a squad with a load of liquor near his home, but was captured hours later by local police. The slain agents were Walter M. Gilbert and John J. Wilson. This NEA Service, Inc.-Dixon Telegraph photo shows Adams with the policemen who captured him early July 23, left to right: Sergt. Carl Ormiston, patrolman Raymond Keim, George Adams, Motorcycle Officer John Taylor, and Sergt. Edward McGrath.

SLAYER OF DRY AGENTS IS HELD TO GRAND JURY

Indiana 'Legger Wish- es He'd Been Kill- ed In Encounter

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 24—(UP)—The one expressed wish today of George Adams, who was shot in the neck in a gunfight in which two federal prohibition agents were killed, was that the bullet which barely missed his brain had "gone just two inches farther."

Adams, who was sent to Leavenworth prison for bootlegging in 1929 and paroled seven months ago, appeared calmly indifferent yesterday as he re-enacted the battle for officials.

It was while the bullet was being gouged from his neck that he made his only remark indicating his reaction to the slayings.

"That was a close shave. It missed the base of my brain only a couple of inches," remarked a physician.

"I wish it had killed me," Adams replied.

Adams was held to the grand jury without bond on charges of first degree murder in connection with the deaths of Agents Joan I. Wilson, Indianapolis, and Walter M. Gilbert, Cincinnati. Two other agents, C. E. Green and Oliver Gettle, were present during the fight but were not hit.

Green testified at the inquest that the four agents had laid a trap for Adams after arranging for him to deliver a load of liquor at the Stoll Horn bridge. He said that when Adams recognized them as federal men, he opened fire.

In re-enacting the battle, Adams indicated he would contend that one of the officers fired at him first.

Rockford Murder Solution Is Near

Rockford, Ill., July 24—(UP)—Possible solution of the mysterious murder of Cordelia Gummshelmer, who was found beaten to death by a gas pipe in the apartment 18 months ago, was seen today with the return of State's Attorney William D. Knight from Joliet state penitentiary where he questioned Henry C. Hill, convicted highwayman.

Beyond admitting that the trip "was not altogether a failure," Hill refused to comment.

Hill was questioned at length some months ago when he was held in jail here pending his trial. He insisted he knew nothing of the slaying of Miss Gummshelmer, a Rockford high school teacher.

From cellmates of the prisoner, however, it was reported Knight learned Hill had told them of slaying of the teacher to obtain $400 which she had secreted in her apartment.

Crewless Warship Controlled By Radio

San Diego, Cal., July 24—(UP)—An unmanned destroyer maneuvered at high speed off San Diego yesterday and among other things made a 180 degree turn, described by naval officers as the most startling trick ever performed by a crewless ship.

The ship was the U. S. S. Stoddert, a 195-foot vessel of 1,500 tons. Everything from its whistle to its rudder was operated by radio from the bridge of the control ship, the destroyer Perry, which followed in its wake.

MICHIGAN TOWN PUTS BOYS IN BED AT EARLY HOUR

Eaton Rapids, Mich.—(UP)—At the behest of a large number of citizens, the City Council has revived the 9 o'clock curfew ordinance. All males who are not 16 years old must have their girls home, bid them good night and reach their own homes before the deadline, the ordinance provides.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

GOLF MATCH SUNDAY.

The Dixon Country club will entertain the members of the Plum Hollow Golf club at the former's club house and course next Sunday afternoon.

INVITED TO PICNIC.

Former employees of the DeKalb shoe factory, now living in Dixon, are given a special invitation to attend the annual reunion at DeKalb next Sunday.

COOKSTOVE WANTED.

The Welfare rooms have received a call for a cook stove from a needy family and should anyone desire to donate one, call George Shaw at the Telegraph office.

ROWBOAT STOLEN.

Bradley Moll has reported to the police the theft of his rowboat from a point near the boathouse on the north river bank sometime Wednesday evening. An investigation is under way.

RE-ENTERS BUSINESS.

Arthur W. Kramer, who far several years conducted the store now occupied by Roy Plovman, and who for past few years has taken a much deserved vacation, has again entered business in Dixon. Mr. Kramer has become associated with W. E. Eastman in conducting the grocery at 923 West First street at the corner of College avenue. The firm name of the new place of business will be the K. & E. grocery.

STEWARTIDES IN COURT.

Mrs. Mabel Haite of Stewart was placed on probation for a period of one year upon a plea of guilty to a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor when taken before Judge Leach in the County Court this morning. She was arrested Wednesday afternoon following a raid upon her home.

George Swope of Compton appeared before Judge Leach in the County Court this morning, where charges of violation of his parole were dismissed for lack of evidence.

BALLOON TRAVELED FAR.

W. C. Feltes and family of Chicago are spending a part of their vacation with relatives here, and Bill paid a pleasant visit to The Telegraph this morning, where for years he was The Associated Press telegraph operator. He told of a peculiar experience he had while visiting here July 4. Riding with relatives in the west part of Dixon they saw a paper balloon descend in a field, and Bill recovered it, finding the name of a Hammond, Ind., lady written on a tag attached to it. Recently, investigated, and found that the while in Hammond don business the balloon had been sent up the night before the Fourth by a Hammond shoe dealer. It had travelled about 125 miles before coming down here.

Graf Zeppelin Is Off On Arctic Trip

Berlin, July 24—(UP)—Successfully completing the first lap of its flight to the Arctic, the dirigible Graf Zeppelin arrived over Berlin at 4:30 P. M. today.

A successful landing was made at Staaken airport, in the suburbs, at 6:03 P. M.

EXCESS STORMS TAKING HEAVY TOLL OF BIRDS

Boston —(UP)—Bird mortality in Massachusetts this summer has been "exceedingly high" due to abnormally heavy rains, according to Dr. John B. May, state ornithologist.

Dr. May reported that damage has not been limited to ground-nesting or low-building birds. Nests of other birds, built high in trees, also have been destroyed by rain or wind, he said.

GASOLINE BOMB, KNIVES, FOUND IN STATEVILLE

Convicts Are Locked Up In Cells To Frustrate Reported Plot

Joliet, Ill., July 24—(UP)—A crudely devised gasoline bomb capable of causing a heavy explosion, was found today in Stateville prison as guards started a cell-to-cell search of the penitentiary buildings on reports that certain prisoners were plotting a break.

The bomb and a home made fuse were discovered in cellhouse C shortly after the guards had uncovered several roughly made knives.

The prison's 2,100 convicts were locked in their cells during the search. Warden Henry C. Hill ordered the guards to examine carefully "every inch of the 64 acres within the prison walls."

The search was prompted by persistent reports that another outbreak such as the Stateville riots of last spring, when buildings were burned and prisoners were shot in attacks on guards, was soon to be staged.

Earlier in the week state Highway Police were ordered to the penitentiary walls when a plot to bomb the prison wall was disclosed and forestalled by special precautions.

Tighten Discipline

Before the guards started through the prison to look for secretly made bombs, weapons and tools of escape, Warden Hill called them together and ordered more rigid enforcement of discipline in the handling of prisoners.

At the same time the guards were instructed to be less familiar with the convicts, who must remain in their cells for a week or ten days, deprived of visitors, while preparations are made to prevent any new riots.

The Warden had notices posted in all cells, informing convicts that any prisoner participating in a riot will lose all good time allowances on his prison term.

Orders to Convicts

"You are instructed," the notices read, "that in event of a general disturbance, outbreak or riot occurring within the walls of this prison, to immediately lie down where you are located and to remain in that position until instructed to arise by your officer."

"In the event of a riot or disturbance any man not doing so may be deemed as actively participating in the disturbance and will be dealt with accordingly."

When the guards started through the cell houses Warden Hill addressed the convicts through the prison radio system assuring the 90 per cent he said did not wish to join in a riot that the locking up of all prisoners was the only means by which such outbreaks could be prevented in the future.

Grasshoppers Are Invading Nebraska

Lincoln, Neb., July 24—(UP)—Millions of grasshoppers swarmed today over farms of Nebraska and South Dakota, extended their invasion across the Platte river and created a serious menace which the combined efforts of the farmers, counties and state were powerless to overcome.

Their resources exhausted, farmers of both states agreed that the fight against the invading horde could be continued only with aid from the federal government.

Leaving barren fields behind them, the insects were advancing in millions upon a dozen counties not yet affected and in which residents pinned their hopes upon Rep. Edgar C. Howard, who yesterday arrived in Washington and reported he "contacted very cordially with the Secretary to the Secretary of Agriculture."

Howard asked that federal aid be given to continue the fight to drive back the insect invasion and announced he would carry his appeal to the White House if necessary.

Weeks ago the plague began, a tier of counties in South Dakota being first affected, and even as farmers laughed at "the best hopper story of the day" and told of wagon tongues, fence posts, hay fork handles, and onion tops being eaten by the insects, it became serious.

Seventeen Nebraska counties were affected by the time the millions of black and yellow pests reached the Platte river. It had been hoped the stream would stop the invasion, but yesterday reports came from three counties south of the Platte that the horde had crossed the river.

U. S. AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION TOTALLED 61 MILLION IN 1930

Washington —(UP)—Aircraft equipment produced during 1930 for both civil and military use was valued at over $61,000,000, according to the Aeronautics Branch of the Commerce Department.

The Department's survey showed that $34,545,000 went into the manufacture of "heavier-than-air" craft during the year, while airships and balloons cost only $365,000 during the same period. Aircraft engines and spare parts during 1930 cost almost $23,000,000.

It is estimated that in our western - serves oil-soaked layers of shale clay contain over 100,000,000,000 barrels of oil. All that remains to get at this oil is to invent a process to release it from the shale.

CALL TROOPS IN
"BATTLE OF RED RIVER" AT DAWN

In Texas, Governor Murray resolved to use force if necessary to open the free bridges. Governor Sterling pledged aid in opening the free bridges "as soon as it can be done legally."

The Texas legislature is considering a bill to permit the toll bridge owners to sue the state for their equity in the perpetual franchise. This would permit the injunction to be lifted and the free bridges to be used. A bill to open the Denton bridge was approved by the State Affairs committee of the House today.

The toll for passenger cars on the Denton-Durant bridge is 75 cents. That on the Gainesville bridge is 40 cents.

A LITTLE TREAT
HEN John came home at close of day,
To taste once more his fireside cheer,
I love to hear him, smiling say,
I've brought a little treat, my dear.

A little treat! It means so much
Of royal love of constant thought!
It tells of hearts in silent touch,
Where'er the tasks of life are wrought.

That "little treat" is great indeed!
What surer sign has ever been
That pledged affection's deepest need,
Remembrance, still abides within.

He thinks of me! He plans all day
With joy this mutual delight,
Anticipates what I will say,
And longs to see my face at night.

The sacred love is in his breast,
The tender yearning and desire
That makes one nook the dearest,
The nook besides his own hearth-fire!

O loving husbands everywhere,
Believe me, naught can be more sweet
To hearts home-biding than the care,
The love, that prompts "a little treat."

Slight in itself—how slight so'er—
It brings that mist of happy tears,
That shining look that women wear
When youth's fond troth outlives the years.

Beat Summer Heat, Problem Of Housewife

The wise housewife takes advantage of the occasional cool day to cook a large piece of meat which she can use to prepare left-overs without the expenditure of much time or effort. The National Live Stock and Meat Board gives you some suggestions which you will find make preparing summer meals easy.

Cooking a whole or a half ham provides meat dishes for several days. A roast of lamb, beef, veal or pork may be utilized in any number of quickly prepared main dishes. A pot-roast of beef or veal, or a beef or calf's tongue are other possibilities.

Meat salads are always acceptable as the piece de resistance of the summer meal. With them may be served one or two warm vegetables, such as creamed potatoes, peas, green corn.

Creamed meat dishes may be made ready and assembled just before serving time.

A mousse of ham or veal, molded in large or small molds, is nice for the company luncheon or informal dinner, because it may be prepared early and forgotten about until time to serve. A well-seasoned sauce such as horseradish sauce adds zest.

A simple but a very attractive way of serving left-over meat is to slice it and arrange on a garnished platter.

Tomatoes or green peppers may be filled with left-over meat and baked.

Stuffed Peppers
1-2 cup minced ham
1-2 cup diced celery
1 chopped onion
1 chopped pimiento
1-2 cup bread crumbs
1-2 cup tomato sauce
1 teaspoon salt
Green peppers

Scoop out peppers. Drop in salted boiling water and boil for 15 minutes. Cook diced celery in butter until tender. Mix with other ingredients and fill the pepper cups. Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and place in a shallow pan containing a half inch of water. Bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes.

COCK FEATHERS NEW ON EVENING WRAPS—
Paris—(AP)—Cock's feathers are the newest ornament for summer evening wraps. Waist-length wraps of white crepe remain worn over matching evening gowns are finished at the bottom of the jacket with a six-inch band of black cock feathers.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE THURSDAY AFTERNOON—
Mrs. W. A. Nichols is entertaining a company of friends at bridge this afternoon.

With Trend Toward Flounces and Ruffles Say the Designers

By MARY KNIGHT
Paris, July 24 —(UP)—A swing toward the flounces and ruffles of the second empire was in evidence today as winter dressmaking showings began with a display by the House of Yve. Other famous showings start displays early in August.

More American buyers were in evidence today than last year. There were fewer Germans because of difficulty in arranging for payments.

Professional purchasers forecast buying would be brisker this year.

Style indications showed continued trend toward the note of femininity, with skirts down to shoe-tops, a variety of dainty flouncing and ruffles, and perhaps even a much modified form of the bustle. The popular Empress Eugenie hat, small but neat, was considered a stable factor around which many dress plans might be built.

There will be many novelties including "dogallah," a rough wool sports material, so named because it incorporates actual long white dog-hair.

The Barnstormers Scored Great Hit at First Performances

The Barnstormers scored a great success in yesterday afternoon's and last evening's performances given at the Dement barn to a large and most appreciative audiences.

The proceeds to date are twenty dollars for the Goodfellow's fund, and this will no doubt be swelled this evening as the fame of the Barnstormers is spreading today and the price of admission, ten cents, is very modest, considering the talent one is privileged to enjoy.

This same company gave several successful productions last year under the name of the Showboat Co. The play "December Sixteenth," the first item on the program yesterday and last evening, is a delightful bit and the youngsters certainly give promise of bright futures should they care to follow the histrionic art. The dances were all especially well done. Throughout, the program is humorous so if you like to laugh attend the Barnstormers performance this evening at 7:30 at the Dement barn. You'll probably laugh hardest at the Burlesque, by a number of Boys, enacted by them in pantomime as Miss Ann Davies reads the poem "Lord Ullin's Daughter." They do this little bit with humor which is not subtle, one might say, but it is good; it makes you laugh till you cry. The entire show is good, and much of its success is due Miss Ann Davies who is director, scenario writer, stage manager, and what not. Anyway, it is worth anyone's time to see it and the price is in accordance with the general depression but the effect on your spirits will not be depressing nor will it be depressing on your pocketbook. Following is the program for this evening:

Burde-Eberly Wedding Was Very Pretty Ceremony

Many friends will no doubt be surprised to learn of the marriage Tuesday, July 21, of Ella Nora Eberly, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram M. Eberly of Eldena and Byron B. Burde, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Burde, 1202 S. Ottawa Ave., Dixon.

The wedding was quietly solemnized at 3:00 P. M. at the parsonage to the Christian Church, the pastor, Rev. J. A. Barnett officiating, the single ring ceremony being used. They were attended by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burde.

The bride was daintily attired in a beautiful frock of dainty blue crepe with eggshell trimming and carried a shower bouquet of roses, baby breath and ferns, the accessories to her costume all being in white. The groom wore the conventional black.

After the congratulations a wedding dinner was served to about forty relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom at the Eberly home in Eldena. The home was beautifully decorated in pink and white, the dinner table being especially beautiful in ferns and cut flowers the centerpiece being a large two tier wedding cake, graced with a miniature bride and groom, and baked by Mrs. Harry Eberly.

This popular young couple have many friends in Dixon, South Dixon and Eldena who all join in wishing them every happiness. She being one of Eldena's most popular young women, liked by all who know her for her charming disposition. The bridegroom is popular, industrious and likeable young man, whose friends join those of his bride in best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Burde will be at home to their many friends after Sept. 1 on the bride's father's farm near Eldena.

THE TELEGRAPH'S PROGRAM FOR A GREATER DIXON

- Increase Dixon's Population 1,000 each year.
- Connect Dixon with the Inland Waterway System.
- Pass a City Zoning Law.
- Enlarge Dixon's City Limits.
- Abolish the Smoke Nuisance.
- Repave and Widen Streets in Business District.
- Build a Municipal Bathing Pool.
- Advertise the Beautiful Rock River Valley.
- Develop Dixon as an Industrial and Trading Center.

AN OPPORTUNITY.

The Chicago World Fair, which will be staged in 1933, will be an excellent opportunity for Dixon to do some advertising. The millions of people who will visit the fair by automobile, coming from all parts of the United States, will want to see something besides Chicago. If they are told that a drive of three or four hours will take them to one of the most beautiful sections of the United States and that the Rock River Valley and the country around Dixon offers much scenic grandeur and great historic interest, many of them will come.

It would pay Dixon well to maintain a booth at the Chicago fair where route maps, illustrated pamphlets, etc., giving information about roads, hotels, points of interest, parks, and all of the things which interest tourists and pleasure seekers, were obtainable.

Plans are under way for extensive advertising in the west of the Lincoln Highway and the Roosevelt road as the World Fair highway gateway. Dixon will profit by this.

THE MOTOR BOAT COMES BACK.

It is interesting to notice that the use of motor boats is increasing steadily in the United States. In 1919 there were only 91,000 motor boats registered in the whole country; last year there were nearly 250,000, and the number is still rising.

Thus comes a revival of an old and enjoyable form of recreation. Two or three decades ago every lake and river in the country was dotted with noisy, energetic little motor boats. Then came the sudden popularity of the automobile, and the boats were tied up and ignored. Now, with roads getting crowded, people are turning back to the water again.

It is a good thing. A motor boat provides an enormous amount of fun for its owner and does so at a fairly low cost. The man who seeks his recreation on the water, whether he owns a cheap putt-putt or an expensive cabined cruiser, is sure of getting a good return for his money.

THE INDEPENDENCE ISSUE.

The movement for Philippine independence seems to be making headway at Washington. Recent dispatches indicate that a number of senators and congressmen are preparing to demand favorable action on an independence bill at the coming session of Congress.

It is doubtful whether the rank and file or Americans have ever been very deeply worried about the Philippine independence question. There is doubtless a certain reluctance to "hauling down the flag"; on the other hand, it is undeniable that we promised independence to the Filipinos long ago, and sooner the pledge is redeemed the better for our national honor.

Sooner or later the Philippines will go free. It is fairly safe to predict that few Americans will suffer any very deep pangs of sorrow when that day comes; and it might as well come next winter as any time.

The mass change to optimism, which will mark the beginning of the upturn in general business, is about due—Ambassador Charles G. Dawes.

There is still a considerable number of intelligent men and women who are capable to enjoyment without a bottle of gin.—LeBaron Cooke.

We are all meditating in the business world whether there will be any fittest when the survival comes.—Thomas L. Chadbourne.

The chief danger to religion lies in the fact that it has become so respectable.—Professor John Dewey.

Qualities which assist in amassing wealth are often anti-social and unintelligent.—Barbara Blackburn.

The man of well-tempered character is unacquainted with laziness, or, at any rate, if he feels the approach of lassitude he never abandons himself to it.—President Doumer, of France.

Drink is more important than food, and beer is the most important of drinks.—Dr. Friedrich Vincenz von Hahn.

All a fellow has to do is to answer once or twice and a reputation is fastened on him for life.—Major General Smedley D. Butler.

The great old log fireplaces are a glowing memory, but chibblains were their inevitable concomitant.—Isabel Paterson.

The world today is a bed of sickness and there is no lack of physicians standing around the patient.—Sir Arthur Keith.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The big pineapple sure looked great and wee Scouty said, "Gee, I can't wait until we cut it into big slices. Then we will have a treat." The Jap just smiled and said, "Well son, you soon shall have a bit of fun. I will cut this fine pineapple up for all of you to eat." He cut the outside off real quick. Said Coppy, "With a knife you're a heck." And then they watched him slice it thin. "Twas juicy as could be," "Let's eat," exclaimed the Travel Man. "And everyone eat all he can. I only want a little. Pick a real small slice for me." What fun they had for quite a while. Soon Carpy broke out in a smile. Said he, "Well, I have had my share. I can't eat any more. I've stuffed and stuffed and, while 'twas good, I've eaten much more than I should. I only hope that I don't have a tummyache in store." The Jap then said, "Well, like as not, some exercise will help a lot. A big fern forest is nearby. Why don't you look it over? If you are lucky, you will find a real old man who is very kind. He carries bowls of calabash. He'll tell you what they are for." The Tynites took this kind advice and shortly found it was cool and nice within the big fern forest. Then they met the queer old man. Upon his shoulder hung a stick and hanging to it, very slick, were two big bowls of calabash. Up to him Clowzy ran. "What are the big bowls for?" said he. The man just smiled and said, "You see, the place where drinking water flows is very far, far from my home. These bowls will carry water fine, so that's the way that I get mine. I always take them with me, every time I chance to roam." (The Tynmites find some strange shells in the next story.)

WAR AIRCRAFT BILL

On July 24, 1917, President Wilson signed the war aircraft bill appropriating $640,000,000, the largest sum for a single project ever voted by any congress.

The purpose of raising this money was to equip the aviation corps with about 100,000 men and with about 22,000 planes.

As soon as the bill was signed Howard Coffin, chairman of the Aircraft Production Board, stated that the board was prepared to go ahead at once, but that result should not be expected too soon. He added:

"In spite of our previous inexperience in quality production of fighting planes, we must have thousands of them for next year's use to make the contribution which the Allies expect of us. "America is the last great reservoir of material for war pilots as well as for airplanes. Already three of the 24 big new training fields are completed and instruction on them has begun. Others are being rushed into completion."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

For I the Lord love judgment, I hate robbery for burnt offering; and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant of them.—Isaiah 61:8.

We neither know nor judge ourselves; God alone judges and knows us.—Wilkie Collins.

THE SUMMER DIET

In what respects should the summer diet of the normal average person differ from his winter diet? To begin with, in total caloric value the summer diet need not be as rich as the winter diet. In winter a certain portion of what we eat is used for heating the body. In summer such heating is not necessary, hence our diet can be less rich.

Summer time offers us a different variety of foods. Fruits and vegetables are more plentiful and usually cheaper. There is an abundance of milk and milk foods.

A change to a diet containing a more generous supply of dairy products, fruits and vegetables is bound to be advantageous. This does not mean that meats are to be excluded.

The hot season is a time for caution in regard to what as well as to how much one eats.

Gastric disturbances are more common and food spoils more readily during the warm months. What with picnics, excursions and the like, the temptation to overeat is great, with consequences sometimes disastrous. Eat sparingly when it's hot.

Do not over-indulge in any single food article. A new fruit or berry, fish food or the like, will tempt one to make an exclusive meal of it, and result in an acute reaction of the intestinal tract and the body.

Water is valuable during the hot season, but many iced and sweetened drinks will spoil digestion. Cooled water is good, but over-indulgence in ice water may result in an inflammatory condition of the stomach.

If the digestive tract is upset in its function, don't drug it. Starve yourself for a day or so, or subsist on a liquid diet. If the condition does not clear up spontaneously, then see your doctor.

Tomorrow—Poison Air.

SPORT BRIEFS

Reno, Nev., July 24—(UP)—Jack Dempsey added California race track promoting to his list of sports activities today in announcing he had joined William P. Kyne in plans for a $300,000 track near San Francisco. Dempsey and Kyne are jointly interested in the Reno racetrack and Kyne was one of the former champion's associates in promoting the Baer-Uzdundun fight July 4.

Chicago, July 24—(UP)—Douglas McCabe has been appointed acting director of athletics at Loyola University. He will supervise the intramural and intercollegiate sports programs during 1931-32. Although Loyola has abandoned football a definite athletic program has been outlined during the fall months.

New York, July 24—(UP)—Charley Retzlaff of Duluth, Minn., regarded the most promising of the young heavyweights, will make his second appearance in the east Tuesday night when he meets Mateo Osa of Spain in a 10-round bout at Queensboro stadium. Retzlaff made his metropolitan debut a week ago when he defeated Ralph Piccello, rugged Brooklyn heavyweight.

New York, July 24—(UP)—The English Wightman Cup tennis team, led by Miss Betty Nuthall, was scheduled to arrive here today aboard the Aquitania. The team, which consists of Mrs. Shepherd-Barron, Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whitlingstall, Miss Dorothy Round and Miss Phyllis Mudford in addition to Miss Nuthall, will begin workouts immediately for the Wightman Cup contests with the United States August 8.

The United States team is expected to be named later this month.

New Orleans, July 24—(AP)—The second annual race up the Mississippi river, over the route made famous by the steamboat Robert E. Lee, is announced by the New Orleans Motorboat Club to start from here on August 2. The race is open to all types of motorboats.

The distance from here to St. Louis is 1,154 miles. In 1870 the Robert E. Lee, racing the Natchez, made the trip in 90 hours and 14 minutes. Last year Dr. Louis LeRoy, Memphis sportsman, completed the journey in 87 hours and 31 minutes in a motorboat.

For the first time on record, a woman, Miss Irene Freutel, has filed an entry to race over the classic course.

Philadelphia, July 24 (AP)—Oarsmen of the east, middle west and far west were here today for the first competition of the National Association of Boatsmen regatta on the Schuylkill river. Sixty crews and singles from 37 clubs are entered.

The annual meet was scheduled to get under way at 2 P. M. in the senior eights Penn A. C. holder of the European record, opposed South Side Boat Club of Quincy, Ill., New York A. C. and the Undine Barge Club. The second heat matched the Detroit Boat Club, Springfield, Mass., and Century Boat Club of St. Louis. The winners and second place crews will meet late in the day in the finals.

The Detroit crew is champion of Canada, Springfield holds the United States title and St. Louis B. C., the middle states championship.

A sensational race was expected in the 15 pound single sculls with Tom Clark of Undine, holder of the crown, opposed by Bobby Cumming, of the South Side Boat Club, San Francisco.

ASHTON NEWS

Ashton—Mr. and Mrs. Rehbein of Milwaukee whose wedding was announced recently and Mr. and Mrs. Wendal Griffith were guests at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Griffith.

Mrs. E. A. Clover will be hostess to the Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society Thursday afternoon.

John Charters has been on a business trip to Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sanders of Champaign have been guests of friends in Ashton, having at one time been residents of the community.

The Collman Bake Shop has discontinued operation the past week. Hugh Reed Wilson left Tuesday for Pleasant Lake, N. D., where he will visit friends, later motoring to Saskatchewan, Canada.

Miss Vera Cain, is hostess to two former college mates of Blackburn who are now teaching school at Marseilles, Ill.

Mrs. Mildred Clover was hostess to the chairman of the various committees of Pine Rock Woman's Club on Monday.

Dale Linscott has recovered from an attack of tonsillitis which put him under the doctors care for several days the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Tilton and Mrs. Annie Hughes spent Sunday at the Pines.

An error in the account telling of the death of Mrs. George Knapp was made in the Ashton items. The death was that of Mrs. George Knapp, cousin instead of brother of the local Knapp families. Miss Billmire left to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Knapp at Helena, Montana.

Bert O. Vogler has returned from a trip to Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Iverson of Newark, Ill., were guests at the Ed Wood home Sunday. Mrs. Iverson remained to spend the week with her parents.

Robert Dean who met with the greatest injury in the recent automobile accident which the Dean family experienced while en-route home, is making rapid recovery from the wounds which he sustained on his face.

The annual Drummond reunion is scheduled for July 26, the meeting being held each year on the last Sunday in July.

Miss Florence Ventler who completed the first term at Northern Illinois State Teachers College, has enrolled for the second summer term.

Mrs. Ray Jennings who has been visiting her son who is studying aerial photography in California has returned home.

Pine Rock Flower Club announces a flower show for August 7 at which time special programs will be given and exhibits made from the community.

Many from Ashton plan attending the service given by Paul Rader at Dixon Sunday.

The John Drummond farm will be tenanted by A. R. Shearer the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Linscott were hosts to their daughters and families Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oswald and Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson of Rockford.

A fine rain on Sunday speeded the growth of corn but served to further tangle standing small grains, most of which, fortunately, had been cut. Cutting of small grain is now done and the whirl of the threshing machine already may be heard.

Dan Tilton had planned to leave on Tuesday for San Diego, California where he will visit his mother, Mrs. O. B. Tilton, who has been ill but is now showing some recovery.

Mrs. Tilton has motored to Illinois each summer for several years.

Mrs. Grace Marsh of Los Angeles Cal., has been visiting at the John Drummond home. Rev. Eldred Marsh will soon come from Los Angeles to attend the annual convention of the Church of God which will be held at Oregon.

The wedding of Miss Gladys Brummer and Clarence Reitz occurred on Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Reitz is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brummer of Washington Grove, a member of this year's graduating class. The groom is the son of C. Reitz and has been employed at the Ford Garage, driving the Ashton school bus north of town the past year. The best wishes of a host of friends is theirs.

Ralph Sanford has been under the doctors care, suffering with tonsillitis.

W. H. COWLES, PUBLISHER OF THE SPOKANE (WASHINGTON)
SPOKESMAN-REVIEW SAYS:
"City planning as an idea is many centuries old—yet it is a vital problem today.

"Like many old things, its value is easily forgotten, and we all know of communities which seem to have developed—not by a well-ordered design, but by main strength and awkwardness.

"Unfortunately, the evil that men do in city building lives after them. It is difficult or impossible to undo the mistakes which have once been made.

"The Spokesman-Review regards City Planning of such importance that it has established a civic development department in charge of one of Spokane's leading citizens, A. L. White.

"Mr. White might be called a city architect. He envisions a city beautiful just as the home-lover dreams of a house beautiful, and works to make it a reality. One of the fruits of his efforts is the development of a scenic drive, now in process of building, which will ultimately wind for 1 mile along the passing motorists' views of the river's picturesque waterfalls, whirlpools, and rapids, its rocky walls and wooded banks. The land for this superb driveway has been donated by the property owners along the stream and its development and beautification are being paid for by popular subscription. The success of this project illustrates how a well-defined plan can and will arouse public opinion and save a great civic asset for the benefit of all the people.

"Let us speed the day when cities, towns and villages—like houses—will be planned to fit the needs of those who live in them."

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS TALK OF RETURN SHARKEY-WALKER MATCH IS HEARD

In Meantime Bat Battalino Retains His Title Against Miller

New York, July 24—(AP)—Their collective bankroll increased by $106,000, Mickey Walker, Rumson, N. J., and Jack Sharkey, the big sailor man from Boston, are thinking about a return to settle any question of supremacy left undecided by their 15-round draw of Wednesday night.

The match, drawing 30,588 paid admissions, earned a total of $223,356, the net receipts minus tax, being $212,720. Of this Sharkey received $63,628 and Walker $42,418. The Hearst Milk Fund benefitted to the extent of almost $50,000.

Discussion of a return bout began almost as soon as Sharkey and Walker left the ring at Ebbets Field. Sharkey, through his manager, Johnny Buckley, pressed for another match at 15 rounds in August, but Mickey's shrewd pilot, Jack Kearns, thought 10 rounds would be enough. A compromise at 12 rounds, with an even split in the receipts, may form the basis for an eventual agreement, perhaps in a few days.

Sharkey, complaining that his poor showing against a man he outweighed by 30 pounds was due to ring rust, is talking freely of two more bouts before the outdoor season closes. Big Jack wants Walker or Tommy Loughran in August and Primo Carnera in September.

Walker, whose great showing against his big rival came as a revelation to most of the so-called experts, may accept a proposed match with Max Baer, Pacific Coast contender, in Los Angeles next month. He is willing, if the terms are right, to battle Sharkey again or even Carnera who would be a foot taller and weigh 100 pounds more. Most of all, the former king of the welterweights and the middleweights, would like a shot next June at the heavyweight champion, Max Schmeling.

BAT RETAINS TITLE

Cincinnati, O., July 24—(AP)—The featherweight crown remained today on the brow of Bat Battalino, of Hartford, Conn., by virtue of his decisive 10-round victory here last night over Freddie Miller, Cincinnati challenger.

Battalino knocked Miller to the floor twice for counts of nine, and the second time down the challenger was saved from a knockout only by the bell.

Miller got off to a bad start when he took a hard right to the chin in the open round. Battalino had him bleeding freely in the second. The challenger sparred desperately to win the third, but after that it was Battalino's fight all the way to the finish.

The champion's attack had Miller tiring badly by the fifth. Miller took short rights and lefts on his mid-section in the sixth and was forced to clinch at every opportunity. A hard right to the middle sent Miller to the floor in the eighth, and he barely got up before the count of 10. Then he arose only to be dropped again by a right to the chin. He was still down at the bell.

Battalino staggered Miller repeatedly in the ninth and sent him through the ropes in the 10th with a right to the head, but the challenger came back at a count of two. He was hanging on at the final bell.

The champion weighed 125 pounds, a quarter of a pound more than the challenger. About 12,000 persons saw the fight.

Baseball Gossip

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The American League furnishes two shining examples of teams that are getting along well because they have good men to finish games when their starting hurlers get into trouble. These are the second place Washington Senators and the St. Louis Browns, leaders of the second division.

The Browns depend on four men, Stewart, Gray, Blacholder and Hebert to start most of their games, with Collins coming in at times. But when they wobble, Big Chad Kimsey, Dick Coffman, or Stiles or Braxton are ready to step in. Hebert opened the action against Washington yesterday but gave way to Kimsey after he had filled the bases in the sixth. Between the two they allowed nine scattered hits and recorded a 6 to 4 victory although Bump Hadley, leader of the nation's finishing cohorts did a good job when he relieved Sam Jones.

The New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers furnished another contrast in finishers. George Pipgras took over the Yankee mound after Herb Pennock weakened in the ninth and pitched four fine innings, while Art Herring, who relieved Earl Whitehill in the thirteenth promptly loaded the bases and gave the Yanks a 7 to 6 victory. Babe Ruth's 26th homer and Lou Gehrig's 30th provided the games other features.

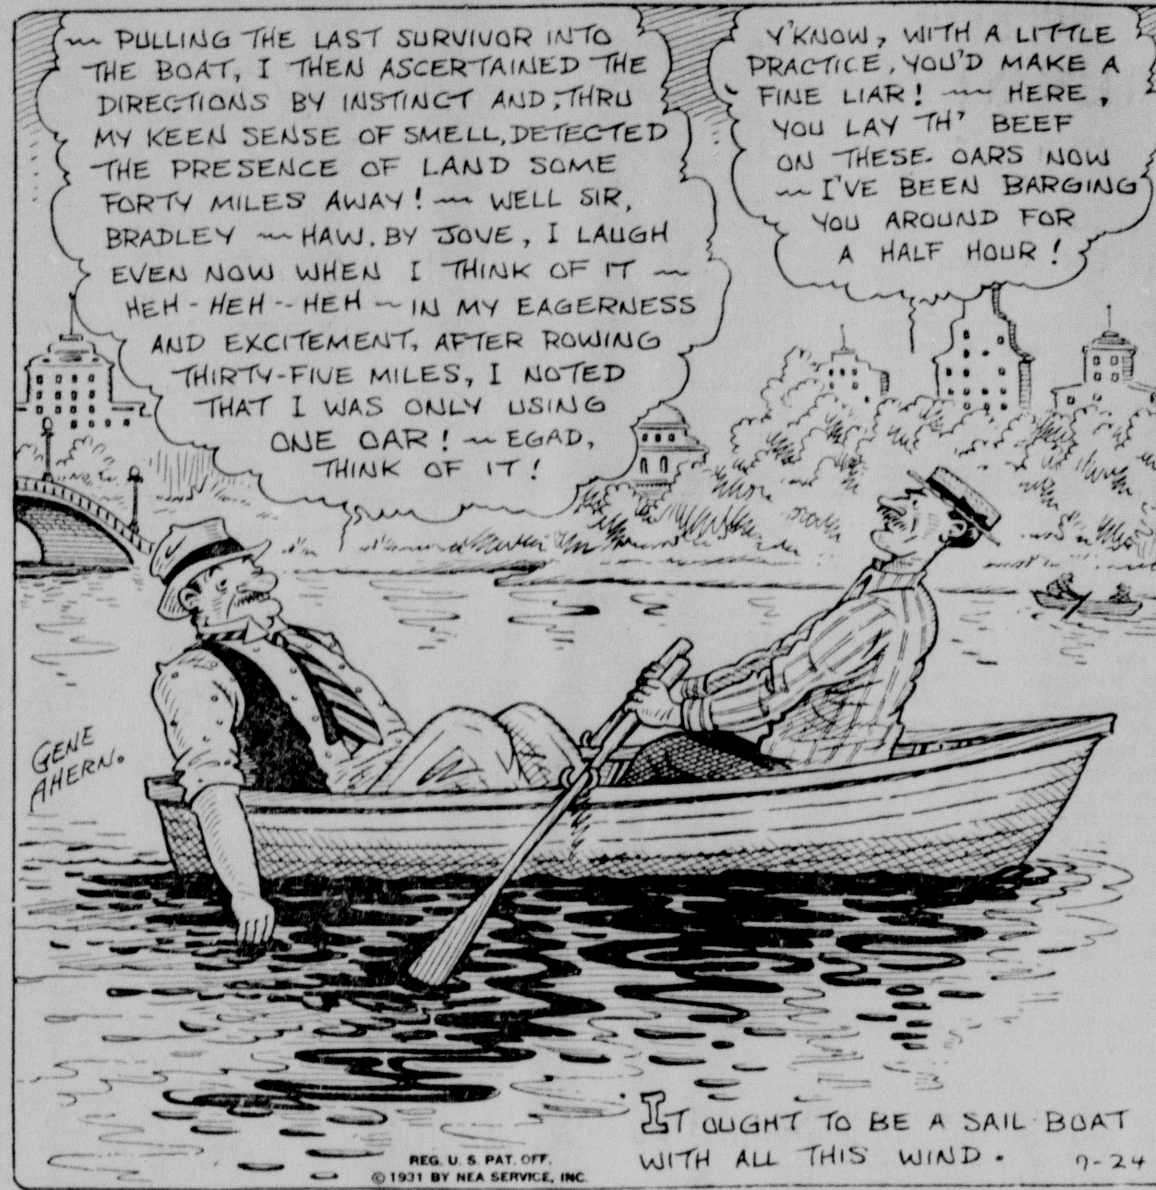

Philadelphia's Athletics needed no finishing pitcher as they increased their margin over Washington to ten full games with their tenth straight victory. George Earnshaw held the Cleveland Indians to five hits to win 5-2. Jack Russell of Boston also went the route as the Red Sox hit two Chicago pitchers hard to beat the White Sox 13 to 4.

Carl Hubbell of the Giants and Herb Johnson furnished the pitching features of the National League as they battled through a ten inning duel. Hubbell allowed only four hits and gained a 4 to 2 victory in the tenth when Fred Leach rapped out the eleventh hit off Johnson with runners on second and third.

Four Chicago hurlers allowed the Boston Braves only five hits while the Cubs made 12 off Ed Brandt, but Boston won by a 6 to 3 count by taking advantage of Chicago's five errors.

It was hit and hit again at Pittsburgh as the Pirates battered Brooklyn into a 17 to 6 defeat. Four Brooklyn pitchers gave 21 hits including a homer by Grantham and a couple of other blows that barely missed going for the circuit. The Robins got to Ervin Brame for 17 hits but could not bunch them effectively. The defeat left Brooklyn 6½ games behind the St. Louis Cardinals, who, with the Phillies,

Sports Parade

By HENRY McELMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York July 24—(UP)—Louis B. Dailey, until a few months ago the President of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, blames the "feminine touch" for our Davis Cup team's defeat by England in the interzone finals.

"What's the use," Dailey asked a tennis writer recently, "of spending months in preparation for cup play and then making it a social affair? Women are distractions and have to be entertained. How can the boys entertain them and still focus their entire attention on bringing home the mug?"

What Mister Dailey is trying to get across, aside from the universally recognized fact that women are distractions, is that our team might well have defeated England had George Lott and Johnny Van Ryn left their wives at home, and Frank Shields seen to it that his fiancée saw no more of Paris than can be gained from a postcard. It would seem to be Dailey's contention that when Lott, Van Ryn and Shields started to showing the women folks Buckingham Palace, Eiffel Tower, Queen Mary's hats, the Louvre and the Seine, our chances for victory hopped gaily out the nearest window.

Maybe the man is right and we would have trimmed England had the members of the U. S. team done nothing but eat, sleep and think tennis. We, however, can't help believing that Dailey takes his tennis entirely too seriously; that to him the recovery of the cup is a business rather than a sport. Somebody should tell Mr. Dailey that even if the cup stays abroad for the next century or two life will roll along about as usual.

Besides, there seems to be a definite flaw in Mister Dailey's reasoning. Sidney B. Wood, Jr., the only member of the Cup squad who was "encumbered" by neither wife, sweetheart, mother nor aunt, was the only player who failed to win at least one match.

Positive proof that sports heroes, like sailors' loves, are soon forgotten, was offered at the national open when Bobby Jones—the same Bobby Jones who was mobbed last year everytime he stuck his head out of the clubhouse—walked practically unnoticed among the spectators. Our guess is that this lack of adulation annoyed the Atlanta wizard even though the adulation had cost him many shirts in the past.

Do You Remember

One Year Ago Today — Johnny Lehman of Chicago defeated Don Moe of Portland, Ore., one up in 37 holes, topping the champion from his throne in the quarter-final round of the Western Amateur golf championship at Beverly Country Club, Chicago.

Five Years Ago Today — Mac Smith and Gene Sarazen ended their golf marathon in the Metropolitan Open championship at the end of their third 18-hole playoff following their tie over 72 holes when Smith shot a record 66, one stroke below the course mark, to beat Sarazen's 70. Smith's round averaged 70 4-7 strokes per 18 holes, believed to be a world record.

Ten Years Ago Today — Rube Bennett, in his prime one of the best left-handers in baseball and hero of a shutout victory over the White Sox in the 1917 world series, was given his unconditional release from the Giants.

BENEFIT OF FARM LIFE CALLED PART OF 'INCOME' Columbia, Mo., (AP)—The farm still offers a good prospect for making a comfortable living, says Prof. O. R. Johnson of the University of Missouri, summarizing a series of articles on "The Agricultural Situation."

But that comfortable living, he says, probably will not include a college education for the children, nor a great many vacations.

However, he adds, it should mean good food and plenty of it; a reasonably good home; plain but sufficient clothing; high school for the younger generation. A large part of the farmer's "wage" must come from such intangibles as a more satisfying, cleaner, more wholesome living.

100-MILE EVENT AT STERLING TO DRAW BIG CROWD

Twenty Cars Entered For Great Race At Speedbowl Sunday

Sterling, Ill., July 24 (Special)—Twenty fast racing cars will face the starter here Sunday afternoon at the Speedbowl park three-quarter-mile track. It will be the seventh annual Corn Belt Auto Classic 100-Mile race. The cars will get away in 10 rows of two cars each. When they all barrel down into the first curve at the start of the race, it is certain to produce one of the greatest thrills that can be imagined. Twenty fast racing creations all trying to come out in front in order to capture the valuable "lap prizes. It will mean 133 1-3 laps of the track. A speed of a mile-a-minute is expected.

Cars have been entered from Rock Falls, Sterling, Freeport, Rockford, Joliet, Saybrook, Washington, Bloomington, Ellsworth, Cropsey, Rock Island, Coal Valley and Funk's Grove, Ill., and Mount Pleasant, Ia. Other cars may be last minute entries.

A record breaking crowd is expected to attend this great event. Despite the bigness of the event, the management has held the price down to 75 cents for general admission. There will be plenty of free parking. The race is scheduled to start promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

INDIANA ENGINEER SEES SUCCESS FOR 5-YEAR PLAN

Newcastle, Ind., (UP)—A simple answer as to why the five-year plan will succeed in Russia, is given by Charles Butterworth, home here on a vacation after more than a year in the Soviet country, where he was employed as an engineer.

"The plan will succeed," Butterworth said, "because anything that they have at the end of five years, or any given period will be just that much more than they started with. In fact," he added, "four or five consecutive five-year plans should succeed there."

Butterworth, who worked in a larger tractor manufacturing plant, said he planned to return to Russia late in July.

CITY DUDES WON FIRST GAME FROM BROWNS LAST EVE

Four Runs In Eighth Inning Decided Issue For The Victors

GAMES NEXT WEEK

Monday—Clowns vs Swissville—Athletic field.

Tuesday—Highlanders vs Indians—Athletic field.

Wednesday—Dementtown vs Dudes—Independent field.

Thursday—Merchants vs Browns—Independent field.

Friday—Clowns vs Dementtown—Independent field.

Saturday—Highlanders vs Browns—Athletic field.

The City Dudes won their first game of the Twilight league schedule last evening at the north side athletic field by defeating the West End Browns by a score of 6 to 2. Bunker weakened in the fourth inning when four runs crossed the plate, two more coming when hits were bunched off Barefield in the eighth. Segner pitching for the City Dudes allowed but seven hits which were kept well scattered. The score:

INDIANS BEAT CLOWNS

The Dixon Indians defeated the Dixon Clowns last evening 15 to 4, before a large crowd of fans. The newly named Clowns were formerly the Utilities team but several local fans tendered suggestions that through their amusing style of play they change their name.

For the first few innings the Indians pounded the ball hard and in three innings had collected enough runs to insure themselves of the game. The box score:

LEE CENTER VS HARMON

Lee Center will meet Harmon at Harmon Sunday in the Northern Illinois Baseball League schedule. Lee Center is in last place but is considered the most dangerous opposition in the league. Dunseth and Frost will form the battery for Lee Center with "Checkers" Block and Raggsby performing for Harmon.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

So authoritative a set of voices as the eight American league managers, in a mid-summer poll conducted by the Philadelphia Public Ledger, acclaimed Aloysius Harry Simmons as the league's most valuable player.

The vote was surprisingly decisive in favor of the big Polish outfielder who does much of the clean-up slugging for Connie Mack's world's champions. Simmons was the first choice of five managers, including Mr. Mack. The others who were Joe McCarthy, Shano Collins, nominated Al for the distinction Donie Bush and Bucky Harris. Mickey Cochrane ran second and Joe Cronin, the great Washington shortstop, third in the Ledger's poll, but there will be quite a bit more evidence to examine before the debate is settled for the season.

Simmons unquestionably carries the big punch of the A's, but Cochrane's all-around ability carries a logical argument in his favor. The champions haven't looked like the same club whenever their peppery backstop sat on the bench.

Walter Johnson, the Washington manager and only ex-pitcher among the pilots, selected Robert Moses Grove as a more valuable asset than Simmons, with Cronin as his third choice. This was the only nomination accorded the famous southpaw pitcher, however.

SOUTHPAW IRON MAN—

Grove's "fireballs" have been treated a bit roughly at times by the opposing marksmen this season but by mid-July, the ace of the Athletics was well on his way toward collecting 30 or more victories, something no major league pitcher has accomplished since Sergeant Jim Bagby turned the trick in 31 for Cleveland in 1920.

No southpaw has turned this big trick since the American league was launched in 1900. In both circuits, the iron men always have been right-handers, such as Joe McGinnity, Christy Mathewson, Grover C. Alexander, Ed Walsh, Jack Chesbro, Joe Wood, Jack Coomb, Walter Johnson and George Earnshaw.

Famous left-handers like Marquard, Waddell, Plank, Gregg, Ruth and Pennock have rarely registered more than 20 or 25 victories in a single campaign. Grove, like Earnshaw, is more effective when he is worked frequently.

Grove's mid-season record showed 18 victories against two defeats. Letty's only setbacks up to that time were against Washington, April 18, when he lost a tough 2-1 decision after allowing only five hits, and

Hens Help Raise Game By Sitting Upon Hygrometers

Chicago—Hens may be puzzled by the clinical thermometers and hygrometers they sit on at the du Pont Experimental Game Farms at Carney's Point, New Jersey, but they are unknowingly serving several deep browed scientists and contributing much toward the success of artificially rearing wild life to restock depleted American coverts, a bulletin of the Isaac Walton League of America says.

Thermal and humidity readings are taken hourly from the instruments nestling among the geese, pheasant, duck and Canada goose eggs under the hens. A table is kept of both as well as a table of "outside" heat and humidity, and, after the hatches, percentages are worked out, comparisons made, a conclusion drawn, and this conclusion reconstructed in conditions in an incubator with eggs of the same species and from the same pens.

Many other complicated experiments are made, simplified, and then tried out in the large electric incubators. These go on and on, and through them species of wild life that had never been raised in captivity are easily raised, and in quantity production although quantity was not the objective.

The du Pont Experimental Game Farms are trying to find the best and most economical means of raising the various species of wild life, and give the information to the public.

Although the scientific application of methods and the working out of trail blazing methods has enabled the farms to raise a higher percentage of Bob White quail, pheasant, several varieties of wild duck and Canada geese than most people can get from chickens. The experiments are constantly verified and improved with little refinements, gaining one per cent here, two per cent there, bringing up the high averages. Meantime the hens exemplify Mother Nature sit on queer instruments and mutely tell their story to the deep browed scientists who use the facts as a basis to improve on Mother Nature's work.

against the Chicago White Sox in a 12 inning game, June 5. He won eight in a row before dropping the "duke" to the White Sox, then he rumped off on another streak that reached nine straight against the Senators July 13.

EAGER FOR MORE—

Far from being discouraged by its rowing problems, the University of Wisconsin plans to improve its equipment at Madison and encourage other Big Ten schools, such as Northwestern, Ohio State and Minnesota, to take up the crew sport. The Badgers have been sending crews to Poughkeepsie for about 30 years, with varying results, but they are now more anxious than ever to develop some mid-western competition, with a regatta or two on home waters annually to stir up more interest.

There are many known deposits of minerals in Canada, some of them of immense value. Among mica, corundum, graphite, feldspar, diatomite, phosphate rock and bentonite are among these.

SOPHOMORES TO CARRY HOPES OF ILLINI IN FALL

Zupke Is Looking To His Recruits Rather Than To 14 Letter Men

Champaign, Ill., July 24—Football hopes at the University of Illinois will depend upon the efforts of a group of husky sophomores.

These youngsters, in the opinion of Carl Voyles, freshman coach for some years, were the best freshman material which Illinois had seen since the season of 1927 when Butch Nowack, Roy Wietz, Lou Gordon, Russ Crane and the rest burst out on the stadium field, rudely elbowing veterans out of their jobs and proceeded to win the championship.

It is to the sophomores rather than the 14 lettermen who remain, that Bob Zupke is looking as he gets ready for his nineteenth season as coach of the Illini.

"Everything depends upon how many members of last year's freshman squad will be available," Zupke says. "There are always losses from various causes and we can't tell our prospective strength until September."

"We must look to these sophomores rather than the nucleus of lettermen. Our team last year played good football but only for half a game—the boys gave everything they had but lacked vitality and stamina."

"The freshmen last year handed the ball well although they still need a lot of coaching. They are sturdier than the lettermen, with physical qualities which will carry them through practices and games. On top of all that, they love to play football."

Pete Yanuskus of Kewanee, the only two-letter man, whose spectacular runs were among the bright spots last year, will captain the varsity. Gil Berry of Abingdon, who was an All-Conference back although he played on one of Illinois' weakest teams, is the leading backfield prospect.

Other lettermen probably available will be Hunter Russell, Champaign, and John Evans, Dayton, O. halfbacks, Art Schultz, Geneseo, full back; Stan "Cotton" Jensen, Chicago Ray Nussipack, Brighton, Mass.; Ack Bodman, Bement, guards; Tom Wilson, Granite City; Mark Swanson, LaGrange, Caslon Bennett, Marshall, and Boyd Owen, South Bend, Ind.; Ends; Don Munch, Joliet, and Clark Root, Urbana, quarterbacks. Hank Steinman, who won a letter at end two years ago, may also be available.

If all goes well, Zup will be able to choose his line from sophomores who averaged 192 pounds on the first freshman team and 169 pounds on the second best line. The outstanding quartet of freshman backfield men averaged 175 pounds last fall.

Among the best of the sophomores is Bob Horsley, who will be one of the smallest men on the varsity. Midway between five and six feet in height, the Mattoon forward passing expert weighs in the neighborhood of 150 pounds. His fight and leadership ability will do much to overcome his physical limitations in the scrum for the quarterback position. Another quarterback is Bill Charle of Chicago, freshman captain two years ago.

Herman Walser, Elgin, efficient in blocking, tackling and carrying the ball, is expected to be useful in an all-around way in the backfield.

Dave Cook, St. Louis halfback candidate, is a son of Jimmie Cook, an Illinois gridiron and baseball hero 30 years ago. Other leading sophomore backs are Herb Leech, Marshalltown, Iowa, Al Hall, Champaign, Paul H. Carson, Saunemeln, John Koessler, Mattoon, E. Snively, Martinsville, and Bernard Morgan, Georgetown.

Casey Straw, who has established himself as a worthy candidate for center, is a product of Moline, also the home of G. F. Hyink, captain of the freshman team and a promising tackle. Other competitors for the pivot position will include Bill Hedtke, of Mattoon, Bob May, Champaign, and Lex Bullock of Urbana, son of Matt Bullock, varsity trainer.

Other new linemen of promise are Sam Gorenstein, Chicago, Sam Glick, Pana; Charles Damit, Brookfield and Scott Marriner, Chicago, brother of the former Illinois football star and later a professional boxer; Ed Schaik, Champaign; Dick O'Neill, Ottawa; Vernon Perkins, Peoria; Ray Horn, Salem, Lind Murray, Cairo; Frank Purma, Ellsworth, Kan., and Charles Dumit, Brookfield.

Albert and Alfred Kann, who gained fame at Atwood, did not play freshman football but will probably be candidates.

The sophomore wingmen include F. F. Frink, Miamia, Fla., I. D. Schustek, an all-city man from Chicago, Maurice Brandenburg, Mattoon and George Fredenburg, Oak Park.

Gordon Bafey, Danville and Lloyd Hire, Chicago, who won freshman numerals two years ago, are other prospects for end.

Some Oddities In Wire News Today From Various Parts

By United Press

Newburyport, Mass.—Mayor Boss' Gillis plans first publication of the Commercial Press, his new paper, Saturday as a "newspaper untrammeled and uncensored." He bought the paper to fight his own political battles so "I may have to print it on asbestos," he declared.

New York—John R. Voohis, Grand Sachem of Tammany Hall, will be 102 years old Monday, but he'll allow no photograph of himself that day, he said today. "It was all right when I was 100, but Monday's another day, and it'll be another day too, when I'm 200 years old. Maybe I'll allow some pictures then."

Chicago—The pride of men who believe gossiping a purely feminine shortcoming received a terrific jolt today with announcement that T. J. Maloney, a husky police sergeant, had been suspended from the force "for gossiping about other members of the department."

Washington—Pity the tax-assessor; nobody knows him. William P. Richards Assessor for the District of Columbia, is nationally known in his field and is a member of one of President Hoover's commissions, but a letter addressed to him at the district building, where his office is, was returned marked "unknown."

Lorain, O.—The Rev. Samuel H. Murphy was engaged in writing new sermons today after a thief ransacked his automobile and stole outlines for this week's sermons during a tent revival here.

New York—It is almost impossible to tell the difference between the society women and a shop girl on the streets of New York, Louis A. Coury, editor of the English Magazine, "The Queen," who is visiting here, said today.

"The cheap clothes have such a good cut," she explained. Miss Coury said she found American men better mannered than the British.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Joseph Matyka, 6, was dead today from severe burns although he had suffered no pain from the injuries.

Since birth, Joseph's legs, although apparently normal, had been affected by anasthesia, making him immune to the effects of heat or cold. Sunday, while taking a bath, the youth was badly scalded, but felt no pain.

He died at City Hospital yesterday unaware that he suffered from first and second degree burns.

Chicago—Pursuing Peggy Hopkins Joyce in shoes is an expensive business, it was indicated today in a suit on file against her former husband, Stanley Joyce, the millionaire lumberman.

Joyce was the second (or was it the fourth, or fifth or the half dozen or so, who knows how many?) rich men to whom Peggy has been married at one time or another.

The suit against him was filed by H. Haackel & Sons, whose attorneys, Scott & Falk, said the entire bill was for shoes which Peggy purchased when she was Mrs. Joyce. The amount was $10,000.

Los Angeles—Marriage license records which ordinarily give only hints of romance, provided a bit of mystery too, today, for Miss Rosalind Rice, the license clerk.

In scanning the records, here's what Miss Rice found:

On July 8, Alfred W. D'Brasser, 21, filed notice of intention to wed Eleanor D. Boster, 20.

On July 18, Alfred W. D'Brasser, 21, filed notice of intention to wed Viola Sidney Sacks, 19.

On July 22, Viola Sidney Sacks, 19, filed notice of intention to wed John Jordan Meacham, 19.

"Now where does Alfred stand?" asked Miss Rice, puzzled.

"And also Eleanor?" she added.

WATCH FOR THESE

Fort Collins, Colo.—(UP)—A coral snake was found in Poudre Canyon near here recently. It was 10 inches long. The coral's bite is almost as fatal as that of a rattlesnake. The reptile has a flat three-cornered head, and about its body are rings of orange, cream, black and white colors.

THE "BEAUTY" THAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN!

Nothing is sadder than a girl who just misses being beautiful. Often the reason is simple—improper elimination. The poisons from constipation often cause pimples, sallow skin, dull eyes—headaches and even serious disease. But every girl can banish the evils of constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. Its bulk sweeps the system clean. Two tablespoonfuls daily are a wonderful health prescription. Try it with milk. Add fruits or honey. Delicious when combined with canned peaches. ALL-BRAN is non-fattening. Ask for Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

HILLS BROS' METHOD OF ROASTING COFFEE
ALWAYS ACCURATE

Patented, Exclusive Process—
Controlled Roasting—Creates
Marvelous, Unvarying Flavor

Just as the accuracy of bewhiskered Father Time's hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow... a little at a time... so the matchless, unvarying flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by Controlled Roasting—Hills Bros. patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time.

This continuous process has advantages over ordinary roasting methods. It guarantees a perfect roast for every berry in the blend. Bulk-roasting doesn't insure such a thing. Sometimes the coffee is roasted right. But frequently, it may be underdone or overdone, with an unpleasant flavor resulting.

That can't happen to Hills Bros. Coffee! Every pound is developed to perfection—to the fullest and finest flavor. It is a flavor no other coffee has, because no other is roasted the same way.

Vacuum cans keep Hills Bros. Coffee ever-fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab head mark on the can.

DEAN DECLARES MUSICIANS STILL HAVE OPPORTUNITY

Greencastle, Ind., (UP)—Opportunities for persons interested in music still are plentiful, according to Dean R. G. McCutchan, who has completed 20 years as head of the DePaul University school of music here.

Dean McCutchan agreed that the radio and sound pictures have thrown large number of musicians out of work, but added that this loss was offset by the excellent opening in the musical education field.

"The period of unemployment has had little effect on the music profession," Dean McCutchan pointed out. "Although the time for placing of teachers does not arrive until August, nearly all those who were graduated from the DePaul school of music this year already have been given positions."

Rev. C. B. Caughman, Pastor in India
9:00 A. M. Bible School. A very commendable spirit and attendance marks the work of our sessions. However there is room for improvement on the part of some teachers and scholars. Every person present and present on time. Every teacher prepared and present five minutes before time. These are splendid mottoes but they are more splendid when practiced.

10:15 A. M. Divine worship. We rejoice in the large congregation that worships at this hour. However many more should cultivate this marvelous spirit of prayer, praise and thanksgiving. There is nothing which can take the place of this hour of worship.

We are especially pleased to announce that one of our former members, Miss Marjorie Slothower, who is mingling with friends and relatives again in Dixon will sing at this service. She has a fine voice and the congregation will be happy for her part in worship. There will be a congregational meeting after the service.

6:30 P. M. Luther League. Miss Mary Bollman who attended the National Luther League Convention at Reading, Pa., will be the leader of this meeting and we may hope to hear great things which the young people of the Lutheran church have planned. Be sure to be present.

7:30 P. M. We will worship with the congregations who have joined for the evening service during July and August and which will be held in the Methodist church with Rev. Marshall preaching. August 2 the service will be held in the Lutheran church and Rev. Barnett preaching.

You are cordially invited to worship with us.

Michael Billester had to tell concerning the Russian revival and what he saw on his recent visit to the mission fields on the borders of that great nation.

"The great revolution and upheaval in 1917 broke down the barriers of religious prejudices and opened the way for the gospel of Jesus Christ. The parts of Russia, which after the war became Latvia, Estonia and Poland, saw one of the greatest revivals of the age. By visit simply proved to be more than I had ever dreamed or expected. I found thousands of people pushing, milling, jamming, and overflowing the largest auditoriums in an effort to hear the gospel."

Rev. Billester then cited several instances where churches seating 1200 had been filled hours before services were scheduled to start. There would hardly be room for him to stand in the pulpit. Eventually these meetings had to be held in public parks so that the largest possible crowd could be accommodated. Such is the greediness of this people for the gospel light that they would come early in the morning, bring plenty of food, and then stay for ten or twelve hours of religious worship.

Rev. Billester closed his message with an appeal for prayer for this needy work and he then announced that his subject tonight would be "Is the Antichrist at Hand, or Bolsheviks in Prophecy?"

The fore part of the service last night was under the able direction of George Dibble. He thrilled many hearts with his singing of sacred words to the old familiar tunes of "Mother Mahere" and "Annie Laurie." Those who heard these beautiful renditions will long remember them. Come tonight and hear this greatest of all gospel singers.

Hail Dautel was at the Baldwin, accompanying Mr. Dibble and played several of his own interpretations of old hymn melodies.

Service begins tonight at 7:30 sharp. Bring your friends, "Come, ye apart and rest awhile."

BEGIN HERE TODAY

LIANE BARRETT, 18 and lovely, falls in love at first sight with VAN ROBERT, handsome man of the world. Liane's mother, CASS, warns her not to have anything to do with him. At Willow Street, L. I., where Cass is playing summer stock, Liane meets MURIEL LADD, debutante, said to be in love with a reporter, CHUCK DESMOND. ELSIE MINTER tells Liane there is gossip about Robert and Muriel's mother.

When Cass is taken ill on tour Liane rushes to her. Cass bubbles in her delirium of some mystery concerning the girl's birth. The rich Mrs. CLESPAUGH invites Cass to return to her house to convalesce. CLIVE CLESPAUGH asks Liane to marry him and, pained by the announcement of Van's engagement to Muriel, she accepts.

TRISSA LORD, a house guest at the Clespaugh's, is rude to Liane. When the engagement of Liane and Clive is announced Trissa begins to plot against Liane with the editor of a black-and-white sheet. Liane goes to SHANE McDERMID, police officer who once befriended her, and he settles the blackmailers.

Shane warns Liane she has an enemy. At a ball given for the PRINCE OF SLAVARIA Liane disappears. Chuck Desmond, Clive and the Prince go off in separate cars hunting for her. Liane is taken to a lonely house on the shore and one of her captors terrifies her so that she falls and strikes her head, cutting it. She is left in charge of the old woman, Molly.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVII

CLIVE cursed himself for a witless fool to have lost even 40 seconds in fruitless conversation. "And I may be going the wrong way," he roared. He swerved in before two green lamps marking the police booth at the crossroads.

"Girl kidnapped from the Hunt Club," he said briefly to the uniformed man who stuck his head out of the box. "We were told the car headed back toward town." Clive's face was white, grim.

"I'll go along with you, Mr. CleSPAUGH," the policeman said respectfully. He spoke a few succinct words into a mouthpiece before locking the booth.

"This may be a hell of a wild goose chase," Clive offered, keeping his foot on the accelerator until the dial hand spun to 70, "but it's the only way we know. There may be a clue."

In the mirror he could see the lights of the big car behind. Grimly he kept that patent shod foot on the gas pedal. There was a sort of relief in driving furiously.

Fool, idiot, dolt! He cursed himself roundly and silently as he drove. To think he had permitted the child to get out of his sight for a single moment, especially after that anonymous letter he had received a few days before.

"Watch out," the letter had said. "The Powers don't want this marriage to go through. Be warned." It had been signed "Well Wisher" and Clive had laughed it off as the work of some harmless crank. Well, he knew better now. God, to think of Liane in the hands of gangsters!

"That's a police car up ahead,"

Mr. CleSPAUGH, the man beside him said after a minute. "Better draw up."

Two youngsters in uniform, six-footers both, thrust their heads out of the Ford and one asked, "Where the hell d'you think you're going?"

Officer McHugh leaned out into the glare shed by the dashlights. "You kids get along there and let the law take its course," he advised presently. "Mr. CleSPAUGH and I are on the trail of a Jersey sedan. Seen one this way?"

"The woods are full of 'em," one of the young policemen said. Then, "Say—I did notice those fellers in one that passed a few minutes ago. The driver was all dressed up but had a cap on. I said to myself that was kinda funny—"

Clive cried, "Did you notice if there was anyone in the back seat?"

"The shade was down. I didn't think much of that because some of these birds don't like the lights on the mirror."

"You're not bad, Deleahanty," said Officer McHugh with an air of kindly patronage. "I'll be speakin' to the chief about ye." The words floated back for Clive was already on his way.

WHERE was Liane at this moment? Were the beasts frightening her? Was she in the hands of some madmen? Clive shuddered. He said aloud, "If they lay hands on her, by the Lord, I'll—!" His hands tightened at the wheel. The older man glanced at his curiously.

"Take it easy, boy," he advised kindly. "If it's for ransom they took the girl, don't fret. They'll not mishandle her. They'll be wanting your money. They'll return her safe and sound. I make no doubt there's a letter at the house waiting, askin' you will you leave the packet at so-and-so's corner."

"If it's only money they do want!" Clive groaned.

Officer McHugh said pacifically, "I'd be slowin' down a bit now. We're coming into the village and I don't know are the lights at Main Street workin' this time of night or not."

Clive slowed obediently. A suburban sedan with a young woman at the wheel rattled across the intersection, the driver throwing an annoyed glance at the car whose brakes had screeched so unmercifully.

"Late hours for a woman to be out alone," observed McHugh. Then he clicked his teeth together. "Seen that woman somewhere," he ruminated. He said to Clive, "It's a hunch! Follow that car."

Clive, certain that the man had lost his wits but unwilling to lose sight of any clue, however faint, veered about and began to take up the trail of the little dash light, winking up the road ahead of them.

"She belongs in a gang down by the shore," McHugh said rapidly.

Clive was frowning. The girl

"They've a queer place with a shady name to it. Some strange goings on. I hear they've connections in the city. We'll just be asking her where she's going."

The little car ahead had begun to gather speed now that Clive's powerful engine had picked up the trail. "Maybe she's only a nice girl, getting home late and frightened," Clive thought. He raged at McHugh in his heart.

THE girl's car dodged into a side road. "Hard going there," the policeman said. "Can you make it?" She's got a hizzie. It's used to those boys."

"I can make it," Clive said, tightening his lips.

Suddenly the tail light of the car ahead became stationary. Clive, realizing she had stopped, bumped up alongside.

A white, thin-lipped face looked out at them. "Who are ye fellows?" the girl demanded. "And what do you want?"

The policeman continued to stare her down.

The girl said again, "What do you want?" in a thin, disagreeable voice.

Clive thought in the split second before McHugh answered her, "We're wasting time. Fools!"

McHugh opened the door, climbed out. He ambled casually over to the cheap little car, drawn up there in the glade. He drew, "Just wonderin' where you're goin' this time of night."

The girl said impatiently. "I've been visiting my cousin over at Rockville Center. I'm just getting home. You cops—"

Her whining tone sounded innocent enough. But the policeman seemed far from satisfied.

"Cousins, eh? This is a fine time to be makin' calls." He ran the beam of his flashlight casually over the back of the car. He opened the rear door and peered in. There was the usual dusty carpet, the old newspaper, the scuffed metalwork. All seemed disarmingly as it should be.

But McHugh did not, as Clive had hoped, signal the girl at once to go on. He said in the policeman's authoritative voice, "Give me your name and address."

The girl whined: "Mary Powjeski."

6,000 WILL SING 'HALLELUJAH' AT MUSIC FESTIVAL

Great Chorus To Be Big Feature Of Second
Concert, Aug. 22

Chicago, July 24.—The "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," again will be a feature of the Chicago Music Festival, which will be held for the second time Saturday night, Aug. 22 in Soldiers' field sponsored by The Chicago Tribune and associating newspapers of the middle west.

Some 6,000 singers will be led by the magnetic conductor, Noble Cain. The chorus will be accompanied by a 100 piece band under the baton of Victor Gabel, director of the Music Festival band. The "Hallelujah Chorus" will be one of the musical thrills of the final concert.

All Invited to Sing
An invitation to join in this chorus is extended to everybody, whether a resident of Chicago, Gary, Houston, Texas, or Beaver Dam, Wisconsin. All that is required is that the participant has sung this great oratorio. An entry blank is found in today's Tribune. Fill it out and send it to the Music Festival editor at once. In return you'll receive an admittance ticket to Soldiers' field and instructions as to a rehearsal.

Mr. Cain electrified his listeners last summer when he conducted 5,000 choristers in the singing of this number. He is no ordinary leader. Conductor of the Chicago A Cappella Choir, of the Senn High School chorus, of the Pastimes chorus and formerly director of the Armour & Co. choruses, he has made an indelible name for himself in the music life of Chicago and his home city, Evanston.

2,000 Negroes in Chorus
The nucleus of the great body will be those entered in the festival chorus contest, men, women and mixed, the 2,000 voices of the Negro chorus entered by the Chicago Defender and the Choral union of 550 voices, directed by Edward J. Munson.

A huge amplification shell will be constructed over the singers and bandmen this summer, giving added strength to the voices of the 6,000 singers and eliminating the noise which lessened the effect of the singing last August. In addition to the shell, which be fourteen feet high and extend part way over the concert stand, amplifiers will be placed around the vast arena so that those sitting in the south part of the stand will readily catch every note that is sung.

been set as follows: Men, Wednesday night, Aug. 19; women, Thursday night, August 20, and mixed, Friday night, August 21. The place which will be a Chicago theatre auditorium, will be announced shortly. The contests will begin promptly at 7:30 and Chicago winners will compete Saturday afternoon, Aug. 22, one o'clock, at the same place with the out of town choruses.

The band contest, both for Chicago and out of town contestants, will be held Saturday morning, Aug. 22, at 10 o'clock in Soldiers' Field on the festival concert stage and the drum corps competition in Grant park near the Art Institute at the same time. Should it be inclement the band contest will be moved to the theatre and drum corps to the National Guard armory near the lake front. Should rain prohibit the concert that Saturday night it will be postponed.

Chicago entries to the festival have been augmented in the last few days by several from towns and cities of Chicago and, Berne, Ind., a small city near Fort Wayne, through its local chamber of commerce, and its two semi-weekly newspapers the Berne Witness and Berne Review, and the chamber of commerce, O. F. Gilliom, president, will send a male chorus of 35 voices. Berne is a musical city and nearly everybody belongs to some kind of chorus.

Contests in Many Cities
Racine, Wis., and Waukegan, Ill., both have announced dates for local festivities. The Journal-News at Racine is planning a big event and hopes to have 10,000 people at its final concert, which will be given in Horlick's field at Racine on the night of Wednesday, Aug. 12. Henry Schulte, dean of bandmen in that city, will conduct a massed band of 300 men, the organization made up of seven bands. The Waukegan News-Sun, the co-operating newspaper in that neighboring city to Chicago, will give its festival concert Friday night, Aug. 14, in the Waukegan township high school gymnasium.

the Cedar Rapids Boys' Drum and Bugle corps, sponsored by the Brabitt-Taylor Music company and its director Jack M. Fromm. The Iowa theatre in that city will assist in defraying the lads' expenses.

Two more adult bands from Chicago entered in the contest are the Illinois Commandery No. 72, Knights Templar, and the 132nd Regimental band, Illinois National guard, W. D. Emil is managing director and Fred A. L. Hupe, musical director of the Knights Templar band, and E. B. Moebius is musical director of the National Guard unit.

Nude Cults Growing In Parts Of Germany

New York.—(UP)—Over 150,000 men and women members of some 1,000 "nature culture" clubs have become devotees of the German nudist movement, according to a survey published here recently by physical culture.

"Nature culture camps can be found from one end of Germany to the other," says Gebhard Hirschfeld, author of the article. "Their doors are open to all who heed the two rules governing membership: decency and nudity. The Federal Association for Free Development of the Body, in Berlin, is one of the most important of the organization furthering the movement. Its purpose is to establish tracts of land where men, women and children may follow their inclinations undisturbed. The membership fee is 50 cents per month. The practice of nudity has been legalized in Germany, in places shielded from public view.

"Regardless of what scandalized derogators may say," the article continues, "the nudist movement itself is pure, although the conservative German general public has looked upon it neither with favor nor tolerance. Those who violate the unwritten laws of the movement meet with summary expulsion from the camps. Its members, with deep and earnest sincerity, endeavor to overcome the shame and fear which naturally possess newcomers and those who wish to try the experiment but lack the courage to take the initial step.

CAT AND DOG UNITE TO RAISE KITTENS

Phoenix, Arizona.—(UP)—A peculiar problem in parenthood confronted Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Emmons, Phoenix, after their cat,

"Nigger," gave birth to five kittens, as a result the kittens are enjoying the unusual experience of being raised by a cat and a dog. The dog will not leave the kittens even to eat, so her food is brought to the cat box.
